

During the edition INAD 2019 “ Looking for lost sounds” three 3th classes of Primary School Rodari, in Monza, have been involved in two lessons direct to about 70 kids. During this educational day pupils have been involved with a small competition of ideas called “The most annoying noise of my city” to represent, with drawings, the noise more annoying for they in own city, home, park.

In total 68 works have been presented. In each of the three classes have been choice the best three drawings and the winners have had a small prize.

Drawings have been judged on based of originality, suitability with the proposed theme, recognizability and technique used for the representation.

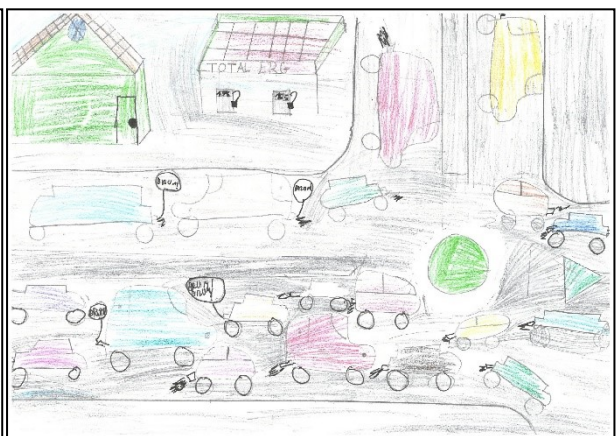

Prizes of the competition “The most annoying noise of my city”

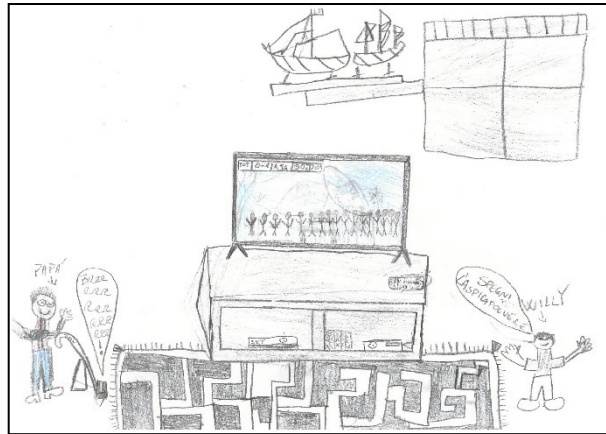

Winners of the competition "The most annoying noise of my city" of the class 3°A- School Gianni Rodari

Winners of the competition "The most annoying noise of my city" of the class 3°B - School Gianni Rodari

Winners of the competition "The most annoying noise of my city" of the class 3°C - School Gianni Rodari

